this morning, which was soon communicated to the adjoining frame, in which a drinking saloon was kept. Both buildings were destroyed, the contents being saved in a dam- railings. aged condition. The buildings were owned by Mrs. G. Gates. Thursday night will be memorable the history of crime in Louisville, A man named John Glass, who had entered the Gathright House on Wednesday night and stolen a coat and a sum of money from one of the boarders, was arrested at the residence of Dr. Caspari, which he had entered with felenious intentions. The accused was examined in the City Court this morning and required to giv bond for his good behavior and for his futur appearance to answer an indictment.

Subsequently officer Green arrested a man at Masonic Temple, who had made several fruitless attempts to pass the worthless notes of the Newport Safety Fund Bank. About nine o'clock an affray occurred on Second street, between James, a slave of Mr. C. C. Spencer, and a boy belonging to Mr. W. K. Thomas, in which the latter received several severe cuts upon the arm. Mr. Spen cer's boy was arrested.

A party of disorderly men, named Jefferson Mitchell, Jack Martz, and Dennis Brennin, came in collision with the police at the fire on Market street, between Tenth and Eleventh, at two o'clock. The police had reason to believe-that the trio were carrying off property from the burning buildings, and endeavored to drive them away, but they resisted, and one of the party, Jeff Mitchell, fired a shot at policeman Sayre, but without effect. The three men were promptly arrested, and they, too, presented before Judge Johnston this morning. Mitchell was required to give bond to answer an indictment, and Martz and Brannin were held for their good behavior.

'Her Majesty's Government have had under their consideration the state of the block-ade of the ports of Charleston and Wilmington. It appears from the reports received from Her Majesty's naval officers that, although a sufficient blockading force is stationed off those ports, various ships have sucssfully eluded the blockade. A question ight, therefore, be raised as to whether such blockade should be considered as effective. Ier Majesty's Government, however, are of pinion that, assuming that the blockade is ulv notified, and also that a number of ship e stationed and remain at the entrance of a are stationed and remain at the entrance of a port, sufficient, really, to prevent access to it, or to create an evident danger of entering or leaving it, and that these ships do not voluntarily permit ingress or egrees—in fact, that various ships may have successfully escaped through it, as in the particular instances here referred to, will not, of itself, prevent the blocked from being an effective one by internal or the state of the state o ockade from being an effective one by inter-The adequacy of a force to maintain a block litions and incursions. A CALIFORNIA STORY .- In the northern par of this State (California) is a stream called Yuba River. Across it some enterprising in lividual built a bridge; and on the bank omebody else built three or four houses. The nhabitants called the place Yuba Dam. Three bars were instantly erected, and the "town" increased rapidly. About noon one cool day a traveller and a sojourner in the land passed this flourishing locality, and, seeing a long-legged specimen of humanity in a red shirt smoking before one of the bars, thus addressed

"Hello!" replied the shirt, with vigor, reoving his pipe from his mouth.
"What place is this?" demanded the travel-, whose name was Thompson. The answer of the stranger was unexpected.

There was about fifty yards between them nd the wind was blowing. Mr. Thompson hought he had been mistaken. "What did you say?" he asked.

"Yuba Dam," replied the stranger, chee What place is this?" roared Mr. Thomp "Yu-ba Dam!" said the shirt, in a slightly elevated tone of voice.

"Lookee here!" yelled the irate Thompson
"I asked you politely what place this was why in thunder don't you answer?"

The stranger became excited. He rose and eplied with the voice of an 80-pounder: replied with the voice of an sor-pounder:
"Yu-ba-dam! Do you hear that?"
In a minute Thompson, burning with the wrath of the righteous, jumped off his horse and advanced on the stranger with an expression not to be mistaken. The shirt arose and assumed a posture of offence and defence.

Arrived within a yard of him, Thompson said:

'I ask you, for the last time, what place is Putting his hands to his mouth, his oppo

Having left the business portion of the town—that is to say, the corner where the three bars were kept—he struck a house in the suburbs, before which a little girl of about ur years of age was playing.
"What place is this, Sissy?" he asked.

The little girl, frightened at the drowned-rat figure which the stranger cut, streaked it for the house. Having reached the door she stopped—turned, and squealed—"Oo-beeernor Andrew, in his late message to the Legislature, after stating that farm products in general in this State last year were about an average yield, and that fruits were more than ever abundant, made the following re marks in regard to sheep husbandry:

"The increasing attention paid to sheep husbandry promises to lead to important and sat-isfactory results. It is for the interests of the several towns to excourage the keeping of sheep by a more rigid enforcement of the law enacted for their protection. By the returns com two hundred and ninety-seven towns it ppears that the number of dogs licensed in hose towns in 1862 was 20,062, for which he amount paid was $22,630 20. The esti-nated number in those towns unlicensed was

2,513. I recommend the adoption of ade-quate penalties to enforce the law. Apart from the mere question of cheap production of wool, the experience of the most advanced agricultural nations, like England, Germany, and France, goes to show that sheep are a necessity of a good general system of hus-bandry, on even the highest priced lands, and amid the densest population. Yet the number of sheep has for many years constantly decreased in this Commonwealth, until within he last two years. Thus in 1840 there were and horses had largely increased, so that the gross value of live stock which, in 1850, was $9,647,700, had, in 1860, become $12,737,444, notwithstanding the constantly growing claims of manufactures and the mechanic arts upon the industry of our people. SPECULATIONS IN REAL ESTATE IN NEW YORK. in real estate in that city last week were unsually large, and adds:

Her officers and crew had been particularly watchful during the night to look out for susunning for the channel by mistake. She he eturned to her anchorage and Capt. Ste vageu had gone to his room for a short time, eaving Lieut.-Commander Abbott on deck, when one of the iron-clads suddenly appearwhen one or the iron-class suddenly appear-ed. Her approach was concealed by the haze and moist of the atmosphere. The vessel was immediately hailed, and an order given to fire, but the iron-clads being close aboard, and ying low in the water, no guus could be prought to bear upon her. A heavy rifle-shell was fired from the enemy, which, entering the starboard side of the Mercedita, passed through er condenser and the steam-drum of her po boiler, and exploded against her port side, blowing a hole, in its exit, some four or five feet square, killing the gunner, and by the es-cape of steam scalding a number of the men, and rendering her motive power apparently Unable to use his guns, and being at the nercy of the enemy, who was alongside on is starboard quarter, all further resistance was deemed hopeless, by Capt. Stellwagen, and he urrendered. The crew and officers were pa-ed, though nothing was said of the ship, the Executive Officer, Lieutenant Commander Abbot, having gone on board the enemy's gunboat and made the arrangement.

The iron-clad leaving the Mercedita to her State to its control of the ate, to sink or not, next engaged the Keystone State, Commander Leroy, who was attacked by the other. Their fire was gallantly reof the other. Their are was gallantly returned, but a shell exploding in the forehold of the vessel she was set on fire.

Commander Leroy kept off until the fire was got under, when he steered again for the iron-clad, having ordered on a full head of steam, determined to try to run her down. The guns had been trained and depressed for a plinging fire at the moment of collision and lunging fire at the moment of collision, and be ship had acquired a speed of twelve knots, when a shell or shot from the enemy passed through both the steam-chests, wholly dis-abling her boilers and rendering her power-and two burst on the quarter-deck, but most of them struck the hull, being near and below Parrott; the Quaker City, Commander Fearey; and the Memphis, Acting Lieut. Wathough, kept up a fire upon the enemy, divertng their attention from the Keystone State, which was soon after taken in tow by the Memphis, and drawn away from the fire. a and Quaker City were both truck in their hulls. The Housatonic gave chase, and a shot from ome damage, and carrying away one of he ags. The rebel vessels then passed to the north vard, receiving the fire of our ships, and took efuge in the Swash Channel behind the The only casualities were on the Mercedita and the Keystone State. On the Keystone State they are very large bout one-fourth of her crew were killed o rounded, and among the former is the medi-al officer of the ship, Assistant Surgeon acob H. Gotweld, who was scalded to death rendering surgical aid to one of the Most of those who died perished from the escape of steam when the boilers and steam chimneys were penetrated, and among the wounded the greater number received their inries from the same cause. As the Mercedita was the only vessel which urrendered, I have directed a Court of Inuiry to examine into the circumstances of he case, as well as into the terms under which the surrender was made. This investigation was asked for by Capt. Stellwagen. I received this intelligence on Saturda, at P. M., by the Augusta, which ship immeditely returned to Charleston.

The James Adger, commander Patterson, was also towed back. She was just coming into Port Royal and was ordered back to The Powhattan, through the commendabl ceal of Captain Gordon, was also got ready by o'clock P. M. I had the channel and bar on the Mercedita there were four killed and three wounded, and on the Keystone State twenty killed and twenty wounded.

PRINTING PAPER.—The Boston Journal says that the consumption of paper in this country equals that of Great Britain and France to gether. In 1854 it was estimated that 250,000 000 bs. were made here, valued at $25,000,000 About 405,000,000 pounds of rags were used at an average cost of four cents per pound. In New England, the Middle and Western States the value of book, job, and newspaper printing was returned by the last census (1860) as $39,428,843, of which eleven millions worth consisted of books, the value of the latter because of the latter because of the same of the latter because of the same of th ing nearly equal to the whole product of the same branch in 1850, which was returned a $11,586,549. The manufacture of paper has increased in an equal ratio, the State of Massachusetts alone producing paper of the value of $5,968,469, being over 58 per cent of the

OLIVER LUCAS, Local Editor & Reporter. SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1863.

We take it for granted that among the members of the great loyal majority in the General Assembly of Kentucky there is and can be no serious controversy respecting the national affairs. We see no room for such

All agree in rejecting explicitly the arbitrary and destructive acts of the Administration; all agree in clinging with unshaken devotion to the Union and the Constitution; and all agree that in the protest of the General Assembly these two grand points should be so on Contracts is, for the American lawyer, es combined and presented as most effectually to promote the common end of both; namely, the preservation of the government of our his treatises on Maritime and Mercantile Law fathers as our fathers made it. All honestly agree in all this. And this covers the whole

The great loyal majority of the Legislature are agreed on all essential points respecting the national affairs. If they differ at all. therefore, they can differ only on non-essen tial points, concerning which every individual may consistently defer to the preference of the greater number, whatever it may prove when it shall be distinctly indicated. Surely here is no fit opening for anything approximating a serious controversy.

And we hope that nothing approximating such a controversy will be allowed to rush or squeeze in through this opening. Patriotism and prudence demand that every member o the majority shall make it his especial busines carefully to guard the opening. A NEGRO ARMY .- In illustration of the reasons that the people think they have to fear our army when the war is over, we wil refer to a recent publication by General Milroy and some other abolition officers from Indiana. After denouncing as traitors the Democratic members of the Indiana Legislature for fulfilling the wishes and pronouncing the opinion of their constituents, these officers assum at the South, we will upon our return, whil our hands are in, also exterminate treason at the North, by arms, if need be, and by the blood of traitors wherever found." This inamous threat from his subordinates, it is to be hoped the President has not seen. In other days its authors would have been promptly dismissed in disgrace from the army. If such breats can be made with impunity by army officers against the people who are taxed to pay, clothe, and feed them, and be held in ter rorem over the representatives of the people, the days of freedom are nearly gone. We of American liberty. Take this threat in onnection with the notorious fact, that the last elections in Missouri were carried under the terror of the bayonet, and the Senate and President must see that this is no time for inreasing but for soothing these fears of the people. If they do not so see and act they aced not be surprised at the daily increasing

Instead of unnecessarily swelling the vast expenditures of the war, by organizing a negro army that must be powerless for everything but evil, we should endeavor, by the most vigilant and rigorous economy, to retrench the present expenditures. Such retrenchment is both a military and a political necessity of no flexible order. Unless our expenditures are circumscribed within some sonable limit, our defeat is imminent. We will destroy our national credit. When that is destroyed, we shall have used "the last man and last dollar" of impassioned patriots. There will be nothing left for sacrificial offering on the altar of country. Every effort should be made to ward off that result. Without the credit, we cannot obtain the dollar. man. These may be unpalatable truths; bu they are truths, and they are less unpalatable now than they will become hereafter, if we fail boldly to grapple with them now. It behooves us in this emergency to act like men clamor for peace.

Our revenue from taxation and tariff will not cover more than a fourth or at most a third of our expenses; for the balance we have to depend upon our credit. Treasury notes are only a temporary, partial expedient. Secretary Chase, together with the finance committees, see and admit that an increase of their amount will only serve proportionally to their depreciation and a corresponding increase in the amount of our expenses. The Secretary says he has negotiated a permanent loan only to the amount of twenty-five millions, that no more can be obtained, or, if at all, only to a moderate amount and at a ruinous sacrifice; yet such loans are the only means of carrying on the war. Adequate taxation would be so his opportunity for negotiating such loans by was at fever heat. Much of the loan if then rope, furnishing the means at home for taking does not and never did exist in this country.

The proposed bank scheme of the Secretary of the Treasury, if successful, would absorb the force in Mexico must be increased. The only some two hundred millions of the loan first detachment, in conjunction with a Britisl and make room for the circulation of a hun- naval squadron and a Spanish army, was 5,600 dred millions of treasury notes. If the scheme | men. The allies having withdrawn, France could be successfully carried out immediately, has more than quadrupled her first contingent. the whole result would not keep him going | The Mexican expedition is very unpopular in for three months. But the scheme could not France, which is one reason why it must be be accomplished in a year, even if acceptable prosecuted with vigor. It is Napoleon's first to the banks, and, unacceptable as it is, it cannot be accomplished at all, and the only result will be the irritation and alienation from the Adinistration of the large and influential moneyed interest which owns the banks. A year ago the necessary loans would have the war upon a reasonable scale. It could have been effected then, because the North was unanimous and zealous in supporting a vigorbe done now? There is no other reason, but that the unanimity and zeal of a year ago are now gone. Why are they gone? It is because of a change of policy by the Administration not acceptable to the nation; because the policy of the Administration is no longer ton Courier as follows: "I propose to spin the to maintain the Constitution as it is and restore the Union as it was. It is because the leaders of the dominant party have thrown is caught, and my daughter asks that she may off all disguise, showing they will submit to no restraint from the Constitution, that abolition is their object, and avowing their determination to consent to no restoration, which shall permit the South to retain its slave institution. What is the remedy? The obvious one of retracing the steps which brought about the change in national sentiment. A retraction of the unconoff all disguise, showing they will submit to be allowed to adjust it around his neck.'

of the people. Unananimity restored, the North will supply the means. Capital in large amounts does not exist for such a permanent loan, but it is distributed through the nation in small sums which in the great aggregate are an enormous amount. In that restored state of things, an appeal to the nation for a patriotic loan would, as it did in France, bring all this out. Every old woman would lend the government her spare hundred dollars.

If some such policy as the one here indicaed is not pursued, the government must almost certainly sink under the pecuniary load of the war. Our armies cannot be kept in the field without money. Most respectfully and with all deference to other opinions, it does appear to us that the money can be obtained n no other way. The ultra abolitionists are probably, all told, not two hundred thousand oters, with comparatively little wealth, and ven less influence when deprived of that which they derive from the Administration It is every way proper that they and not the est of the nation should be made to yield in uch an exigency. A large, a very large maority of the nation is unalterably opposed to the destruction of the whole white popula tion and property of the South. It is sheet madness to attempt to carry out any policy against the will of such a majority. A TREATISE ON THE LAW OF PROMISSOR NOTES AND BILLS OF EXCHANGE. BY THE PHILUS PARSONS, LL. D .- The legal profes ion has heretofore been indebted to Professo Parsons for several valuable books. His work pecially superior to all others, and the sam may be said, with almost equal confidence, o But however high our obligations to the author have been for his past labors, they must b nmensely increased by the Treatise of Notes and Bills. For though he has been pro ceded in this field by Bayley, Byles, Chitty, Story, and others, none have explored it so horoughly or exhaustively as he.

Professor Parsons does not hesitate to ex press his opinion on all doubtful or mooted questions. He does not, like Judge Story, sur up the authorities on the one side and the othe and leave it to the "learned reader" to choos between them; but, in the text, he explicit expresses his own opinion derived from a careful examination of all the au thorities, and defers all, or nearly all, discussion to the notes where the authoritie bearing on the given questions are cited and discussed with great learning and ability These notes do not always merely refer to the authorities by name, volume, and page, but opious passages are quoted from the most imortant and instructive decisions, thus supply ing, to some extent, what most lawyers needcomplete series of all the published Report mooted questions correctly, but we know of r work on the subject to which it relates so fre of errors or in which so many explicit opin ons may be found on all questions concerning which lawvers wish to consult books. Is the a good bill or note which is drawn for a su certain "and exchange added?" Chitty, Story and Bayley will be consulted in vain for any answer to this question. Parsons says it is not. Considering the extensive circulation of paper in this form among mer chants the importance of this question can hardly be overrated. And whether Mr Parsons's opinion is correct or not-and we think it more than doubtful-it should operate to caution merchants against the use of such paper. Must demand and protest be made and notice given according to the law of the REST QUALITY OF PITTSBURG COAL AT THE to that where the signatures are made? When the defendant has shown that the paper was given without consideration, or that the con sideration has failed, or that the paper was obtained by fraud, is the burden thrown on the plaintiff to prove that he is a bong fire holder for value? Who is a bona fide holder s he such a holder who takes a bill in payment of or as collateral security for an ant cedent debt? On all these and other equally difficult questions the opinion of our author i clear and decided, but it would swell this notice much beyond appropriate limits even to indicate what his opinions are on the point raised or were we to extend the list of ques tions which the legal profession has regarde as unsettled, and on which Mr. Parsons ha expressed an opinion.

We cannot say that our author decides

Appended to the work is an accurate reprin of the provisions of the recent act of Cor gress in relation to bills, notes, letters of credi drafts, orders, and checks, together with a brid but valuable examination of some question which the statute suggests, and the authoritie upon kindred questions which have arisen and, without the dollar, we cannot obtain the under the English stamp acts. It would be well for the merchant and banker as well a for the lawyer to read and study these sugges tions. They will find in them many que tions answered concerning which they are now in doubt. Suppose a person, cancelling a stamp, affix the wrong date. Can he alter it? Mr. Parsons thinks it safer not to alter, but to retain the stamp as spoiled and to alter, but to retain the stamp as spoiled and dispose of it as provided by the 102d section.

If a note or bill be issued without a stamp. If a note or bill be issued without a stamp, can a stamp be subsequently affixed to it? Mr previous parties who did not assent to and authorize the affixing of the stamp.

We cannot extend this notice, but mo heartily commend the work to all lawyers and other persons who desire to investigate questions kindred to the subject on which is

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: GENTLEMEN: It is with fearful forboding of ninent disaster in the tremendous strugglubdue a gigantic rebellion—continued wit ntense fury by myrmidons of the infernation owers, and a ferocity unprecedented in the isages of modern warfare—that the tried riends of the noble Union cause are mortified d discouraged by the evidently inconsiderat and glaring impropriety on the part of not a few of the conservative presses, by permitting them to be used in publishing the indiscree fusions of certain "itching scribblers," hur-edly and untruthfully written, for the ap plause of the sovereigns, before the smoke of a battle has cleared away, and for the avowed urpose of establishing the courage and bravery f certain regiments and their commanders, companied with invidious reflections against ther troops of the same army, even to the harge of faltering—nay, cowardice!

It must be evident to the "corps editorial" at all this is crimpally were and if connat all this is criminally wrong, and, if con nued to be countenanced, will inevitably reordination, and finally a loss of the esprit d rps so essential to the efficiency and success of e best appointed armies; and eventually the atriotism of the brave defenders of our coun y will degenerate into mere personal distinc ry's honor profanes.

An old soldier should promptly award the need of praise to the noble and brave self-sacficing young volunteers, who so generously all the endearments and comforts of home, brave the perils of the direct conflict ever known in the annals of our race, with all the concomitant fatal effects of exposure and privations incident to camp life, but he would have their meritorious conduct in battle first officially announced to their admiring coun-rymen through their commanding General and not by hired scribblers, who, like Russell the prince of that fraternity, are too often bricating thrilling narratives, to ften to the morbid appetites of the thousands Before completing this, I have read with much satisfaction the order No. 12 by Gen. Rosecrans in Tuesday's Journal, which will ac doubt effectually relieve certain officers of the malady—scribendi cacoethes—but that prescription should be administered to both ank and file, and certain postiferous civilian and camp followers, who indite exploits which never happened, and they especially should be promptly visited with the utmost

REBEL FORCE IN SOUTHEASTERN KENTUCKY All reports from Danville in reference to the presence of ten thousand rebel troops south of the Cumberland, beyond Somerset, are wholly unreliable. Information was received at headquarters in this city yesterday, however, to the effect that about two hundred rebel cay alrymen were at Ravena, in Russell county a day or two ago, and that they had gone off in the direction of Albany, in Lincoln county These two hundred are a portion of a force of nine hundred men, under command of Col. Tucker, and Colonel Lawrence Robinson, alias "Col. White," who are quartered at Treviss, on Wolfe river. The great object of wishing to be represented at the proposed these troops is to steal horses and supplies. Hamburg Exhibition, are requested to apply Their career in that portion of the State will soon be closed.

THE HIGH WATER WHARF .- The transfer to the city of the ground lying between First and Second streets and Beargrass and the river was consummated on Thursday evening, at a cost to the city of thirty-five thousand dollars for the entire property. It will be remember ed that, a few weeks ago, that portion of this property which fronted immediately upon the river, was purchased by the city at a cost of fifty thousand dollars, and we are now gratified to learn that the remainder of the property, the right to which was vested in certain heirs, has been transferred to the city. This secures to the corporation the ownership of all the wharf property between Brook and Ninth streets. There is now nothing in the way of the satisfactory solution of the problem of a high-water wharf for Louisville, to gain which object the combined wisdom of the city authorities has for years been exerted. We are gratified to learn that it is in contemplation to fill the bed of the Beargrass which now mars this new city property, which will permanently secure that portion of the city wharf against overflow.

The draymen and other teamsters of this city have held a meeting recently to consider a proposition to advance their prices for hauling. We observe that the draymen of Cincinnati have decided to advance their prices as follows: An advance of ten cents per load on all loads to and from the depots; five cents on loads to and from canals and river; twenty-five cents on loads to and from the Covington and Lexington Railroad depot. The advance on loads drawn between stores will be in proportion to the number of calls.

Their late repulse at Fort Donelson has pretty effectually put an end to all rebel operations on the Cumberland river, as they appear to have abandoned that stream to the Federal gunboats and free navigation. The Liberty and other boats which arrived yesterday from Nashville, came out of the Cumberland without convoy, and the Jacob Strader and the accompanying fleet left Nashville yesterday unattended by gunboats.

THEATRE.-The engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Waller will close this evening, with the thrilling tragedy of "Bertram," Mrs. Waller personating the character of Imogene. The attendance on the occasion of Mrs. Waller's benefit was a gratifying evidence of her great popularity in this city, and both she and her gifted husband will be warmly complimented again this evening, as it is their last appear CASUALTY AT PADUCAH. - Mr. John M. Clark, the proprietor of the St. Francis Hotel, was stabbed and mortally wounded by a cook in his employ in that city on Thursday. A despatch was received in this city yesterday announcing Mr. Clark's death. The deceased, who is well known in this city, leaves a large and interesting family. The homicide ha been arrested, and is awaiting examination.

COMMISSIONER OF THE EASTERN LUNATIO ARYLUM. - An election was held in joint ses sion of the two houses of the General Assem bly yesterday for Commissioner of the Easter Lunatic Asylum, to fill the vacancy occasione by the death of Dr. S. M. Letcher, which resulted in the choice of Mr. B. Gratz.

BRIDGES FOR THE OHIO .- Mr. Wadsworth's bill, providing for the erection of a bridge across the Ohio at the mouth of the Big Sandy another at Maysville, a third at Cincinnat and a fourth at this city, was reported to the lower house of Congress on Thursday and ap propriately referred.

There is a growing demand for Ken tucky currency in this city, and the selling rates were advanced yesterday to from eigh to ten per cent premium, and but few of the bankers were disposed to sell even at those

Mr. Gilliss reported a number of House bills correctly enrolled, they had been signed by the Speaker of the House, the Speaker of the Senate affixed his signature to them, and they Charles S. early day. [Extract from a Letter on the Battle-field.] This battle (Antietam) has been the most sanguinary of the war, and the only one fought with visible design and upon muttary principles. The arrangement of our corps the overlooking position of the commanding General-the sending into action the right and left divisions—the closing up of the centre, and the final success-excites bewildering admiration, and carries the mind to the great fields of Austerlitz and Wagram, fought by Napoleon. Of all this have I spoken. The Shelbyville. Referred to a select comheart history of such a conflict, purchased by the life and blood of twenty thousand men, must be found in the hospitals. War has its glories-but it has its ten thousand demons in these human tortures that make the eve-balls ache-the heart bleed-the lips palsy, and the A bill to amend chapter 50 of the Revised statutes, title "Inclosures and certain tressesses." Ordered to be printed and referred brain reel. The sight is at first positively unendurable. The life-blood of some is trickling away in silent calmness-while the dis-

But ye mothers who here seek a son—category a brother wives a husband-or sisters a brother-or sons a father-know and be consoled that ever here the hand of mercy is watchful, and better care is bestowed upon your loved one than might at first seem possible. It was in the hospital, where rested the gallant Hooker, that I learned the history of those mythical words so often seen and so little understood "S. T .- 1860-X." Anything alleviating the sufferings and saving the lives of our soldiers, is a national blessing. I witnessed some as tonishing results from this article. It is well known the effect of burnt gun powder and excitement is thirst, which, added to the loss of blood in the wounded, create the necessity of a reviving stimulant. In this particular hospital, the physicians were allowing their patients to drink Plantation Bitters otherwise called S. T .- 1860-X, and although the wounded are most numerous here—this division having opened the fight at 5 in the morning-the men were mostly composed, and there was very little fainting. The article acts upon the stomach and nerves in a most incomprehensible manner, superior to brandy, and without subsequent stupefying reaction. It originated in the West Indies, composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Roots, Herbs, &c.; all preserved in St. Croix Rum—the S. T.—1860—X being a secret ingredient, not yet revealed to the public. It is principally recommended for want of appetite, disordered liver, intermittent fevers stomachic difficulties, &c. I understand it was somewhat known in the Southern States previous to the war, and it appears an agent of Jefferson Davis recently applied to the proprietors for the privilege to make it for hospital purposes during the war, to which they made the following reply:

Agent of, etc.:

DEAR SIR: In reply to your communication, offering us "Fifty thousand dollars for the recipe and right to make the Plantation Biters for your hospital purposes during the omply, and that otherwise we can derive no evenue from the Southern States; but, sir, or duties to our Government and our ideas of consistency would not allow us to enter-tain it, although it might please us to assuage the sufferings of your misguided followers.

Very respectfully, yours, P. H. DRAKE & CO. These gentlemen give the history of certain ngredients of their article for over two hun lred years-showing that through all changes of the medical profession and its practitioners, strength, composure, and cheerfulness have been derived from these sources. Dr. Woods in the Washington hospitals informed me that one patient was fast sinking and crazy, and ne Senate Committee, and that upon joint had not slept an hour for two weeks, until the allot of the two Houses Plantation Bitters came to his knowledge when one day's trial gave him a night's rest Mr. Gratz having received a majority of the and he was now fast recovering. I am surprised our Government has not equalled Jefferson Davis in energy, and adopted this invaluable article in all our hospitals. The eak soldiers cling to it like a brother. As a

Mr. Clarke moved to amend the proposed tax of two per cent on the circulation of the banks so as to make it one per cent for two years and two per cent after that.

Mr. Harris said he could vote for no such amendment, as he deemed it a declaration of war against the banks. It was a notice them that they must wind up their affairs it two years. The banks had nobly supporte ne Government, and he would not vote to lestroy them.

Mr. Clarke said he offered the amendment o relieve, not to destroy, them. If the scheme bassed yesterday was to go into effect, that cirulation must take the place of bank circula-ion. He was ready to sacrifice anything to ave the Government.

Mr. Fessenden said the Senator from New Mr. Fessenden said the Senator from New York was willing yesterday to vote for the bank bill to aid the Government, but now he was not willing that the bill should go into operation. The very essence of the bill passed yesterday was to introduce a new circulation to take the place of bank circulation; but if the banks were to still go on issuing all the notes they pleased, it would render the new plan a nullity. This tax was designed as a pressure on the banks to induce them to come under the new arrangement and help make a nder the new arrangement and help make a niform currency all over the country. Mr. Harris contended that he had supported which the banks would receive, and not as a measure to exterminate and make war on Everybody knew no country ever carried on a war like the present one without coin, and never could without using its own paper; but the Senator complained because the Government put its own credit in the market instead of putting itself at the mercy of any body who might choose to prey upon it. It was impossible to obtain gold to carry on the war. We had carried on the war for two years and the had carried on the war for two years, and the credit of the Government had been sustained nobly before the world by the exertions of the ecretary of the Treasury. He would not say this plan should not be adopted. He was willing to do everything and try everything for the safety of the Government and to carry on the war to a successful termination.

Big Grev Eagle, Hend.
Lady Pike, Memphis.

Arab, Pitts.
Liberty No. 2, Wheeling.
Nellie Rogers, St. Louis. The river is swelling slowly at this point, with eight feet five inches water in the canal last evening. The weather is cold, cloudy, and disagreeable. The tow-boats Arab and Ormsby, each with barges n tow, from Cairo, came up over the falls yesterday, and passed on up for Pittsburg. We learn from Nashville that the steamer Jacob Strader, and the accompanying fleet, left Nashville esterday for this port.

The navigation of the Cumberland river is now un-estricted, so far as rebel batteries are concerned. The Liberty, which arrived from Nashville vest me down without a convoy, and the fleet which left Nashville for this port yesterday left without protecion from the gunboats. The little propeller Despatch was engaged towing nay-boats below the falls yesterday. She departed last vening for the Kentucky river. the falls yesterday, as will be seen by reference to ou

The splendid new steamer Major Anderson is the nailboat for Cincinnati at noon to-day. The Ruth caught fire at Cairo on Sunday night from her cook-house, which was fortunately discovered be-fore it had made much headway.

The Freestone and May Duke left Cairo for Evans-ville, and the Belle Creole for Louisville, on Wednesday, to be discharged from the Government service. The City Belle left Cairo for Louisville, on Wednes-The Freestone has been purchased by Messrs. Trover Miller, of Cairo, for a trading boat. The Wren is the regular packet for Kentucky river at the usual hour this afternoon.

erson on Wednesday evening, was detained all night y the fog at Hughes's bar, a short distance below New Albany. She will return in time, however, to leave for Henderson at the usual hour to-day.

The J. T. McCombs is at our landing. She has been dismissed from the Government service, and will take her place in the Henderson mail line on Monday next. The city closed the purchase on Thursday night of the remainder of the wharf property between First and Second streets, in the bed of the Beargrass. The title of the city to all the wharf between Brook and Ninth streets is now clear. We learn that it is the design to fill up the Beargrass in the rear of the new wharf property below First street, which will give us a fine high-water wharf.

The Commercial will arrive to-morrow and leave again for Memphis on Monday. We learn from the Cincinnati Commercial that Cap-tain J. P. Sanford, U. S. N., and Engineer Charles F. Kendail, U.S.N., purchased yesterday for the Western Naval Department, from Mr. Wiggins, of the Cinor raising any of the vessels now built. The ill passed.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

MAYFIELD, KY., Feb. 5, 1863. GENTLEMEN: In your Daily Journal of the 31st January last there is a communication from this place, signed by one John Eaker. His ject, as he says, is simply to ask "the insidobject, as he says, is simply to ask "the insidious calumniator over the signature of 'Fairplay,' published in your paper of the 14th of January last, to unmask himself that the community may know him," &c.

Now, Messrs. Editors, this old reprobate, his counsellors, advisers, and allies in crime, knew as well the author of the article referred to as well the author of the article referred to when they put their traitorous heads together rite the communication he signed as they will to establish a police court in the town of Caseyville.

An act for the benefit of the jailer and others of Whitley county.

An act to extend the civil jurisdiction of the police court of the city of Hickman, and for other purposes.

An act in relation to the Surveyor of Clay county.

An act for the benefit of A. C. Tanner, late clerk of the McLean County and Circuit Courts.

An act to establish an additional justices and the article referred to by the said John Eaker, late foreman as aforesaid, published in your paper of the 14th January, 1863, signed "Fair Play." I proclaimed it publicly and privately, and as such author am ready to re-ive any exposure or personal responsibility sulting therefrom.

I want this old foreman, unless it unbends his dignity, to vindicate himself triumphantly, if he can, through the columns of your paper; nevertheless, that will not obviate the necessity of his doing so before a jury of his country, when he stands before one, to account for the offences he has been guilty of since the inauguration of the present uncalled-for rebellion against the Constitution and laws of the United States. I will teach this old hardened inner before I am done with him that the struggle we have passed in Kentucky, made by Union men on one side against rebels order on the side of the Union men, anarchy An act to amend the charter of the town of Bowling Green.

the other. And after the Union Inch., have been able to drive from the State the been able to drive from the State the armed gebels and traitors with whom the said John Eaker, foreman, as aforesaid, sympathized, he, with others of like sympa-thies, turns round and proposes to use the very aw the Union men were contending for against hem,—not for a vindication of the law, but is a machine to harass and bring odium on nem, and all on account of their fidelity to th Government, whilst he and the guilty perpetra-tors of the most heinous offences are to go Scott free. No, sirs; to this, for one, I will never submit in silence; these men must be dealt with and brought to justice; and, so help me God, I intend to aid in the good work, despite their threats and denunciation be Union men of the State must either con-ol its destinies or we must submit to the infamous dictation and tyranny of the traitors who are in a minority. This I never intend to do. 'Tis true most of them are under oath to be true to the Government and State, but to be true to the Government and State, but my experience and observation is that you might as well swear a skunk never to stink as to swear a skunk never to be true to his country. The truth is, the time has come when this traitorous minority should be made in peace to submit to Constitution and laws. No gentleman will live in a State he is untrue to, nor will a gentleman exercise or claim privileges under a Government he is a traitor to; if he does, he ought to be made to take a back seat; if he fails to do so, the faw ought to be enforced against him, which would incarcerate him in the prison made for malefactors, there to expiate his crimes malefactors, there to expiate his crimes until the old foreman shall triumphantly vindicate himself. I shall say nothing more, but remain as ever yours, in the bonds of the Union. LUCIAN ANDERSON. GOVERNMENT STAMPS IN LEGAL PROCEED GOVERNMENT STAMPS IN LEGAL PROCEED-INGS.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, George S. Boutwell, Esq., has addressed a let-ter to the Clerk of the Superior Court at Bal-timore, in answer to inquiry, giving the fol-lowing information in relation to the govern-ment stamps required to be used for certain legal instruments. The Commissioner states: issues a certificate to the effect that a release had been placed on record, or makes a certified copy thereof, such certificate must be stamped as provided in schedule B of the ex-cise law. Second—that bills of sale are exstamped as provided in schedule B of the Calcise law. Second—that bills of sale are exempt. Third—that actions by consent are subject to stamp duty as original process. Fourth—that the bonds for the conveyance of land comes within the meaning of the second clause of schedule B, pertaining to bonds, and is therefore subject to a stamp duty of 25 cents. Fifth—that the forms of bonds named and numbered as in letter B, replevin bonds, injunction bonds, bonds to dissolve attachments, being bonds required in legal proceedings, are exempt from stamp duty. Sixth ceedings, are exempt from stamp duty. ceedings, are exempt from stamp duty. Sixth-trustee's bonds come within the meaning of he first clause of the schedule pertaining to bonds for the due performance of official du-ties, and is, therefore, subject to 50 cents stamp duty.
